

FULTON COUNTY TRIBUNE.

VOL XXXIII NO 10

WAUSEON, OHIO, FRIDAY, JUNE 16, 1916

$1.50 PER YEAR

HUGHES IS NAMED BY REPUBLICANS

Associate Justice of Supreme Court Nominated for President of United States.

"MOOSERS" FOR T. R.

Refuse to Accept Senator Lodge of Massachusetts as Compromise Candidate.

NAMED BY ACCLAMATION

Fairbanks and Parker of Louisiana Selected as Running Mates—Story of the Two Big Chicago Conventions.

Republican Ticket—

For president: Charles E. Hughes of New York.
For vice president: Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana.

Progressive Ticket—

For president: Theodore Roosevelt of New York.
For vice president: John M. Parker of Louisiana.

Chicago—

Charles E. Hughes of New York and Charles Warren Fairbanks of Indiana are the nominees of the Republican party according to the verdict of the delegates in convention assembled in this city on Saturday.

Hughes was named on the third ballot and the voting was halted to make the nomination unanimous by two-thirds of the delegates.

Fairbanks was selected as the running mate on the first ballot. His name was placed in nomination by John W. Wamsutter of Philadelphia.

Almost at the same time Theodore Roosevelt was unanimously named as the Progressive candidate for president at the "Bull Moose" convention a few blocks away.

For two days George W. Perkins and other Progressive leaders held the delegates in check, hoping that a compromise candidate might be agreed upon by the two parties, but they would no longer be stayed when it was seen that the nomination of Hughes was to be effected by the Republicans.

John M. Parker of Louisiana was named as the candidate for vice president.

The naming of the associate justice of the Supreme court of the United States was the signal for a wild outburst of cheering in the Coliseum—the scene of many demonstrations during the convention. Likewise the naming of the "big chief" of the Progressives permitted the followers to let loose their pent-up enthusiasm that fairly rocked the Auditorium.

Named on Third Ballot.
Two unsuccessful ballots were taken by the Republican delegates before any adjourned Friday night. When the convention met at noon Saturday indications pointed to the naming of the New York man and the vote was overwhelmingly Hughes from the moment the first state—Alabama—was called upon. He was given 949½; Roosevelt, 18½; DuPont, 5; Weeks, 3; Lodge, 7, and LaFollette, 3. Only 494 votes were necessary for the nomination.

Compromise Candidate Refused.
The nomination of Hughes came after the Republicans turned down the proposal of Col. Theodore Roosevelt that United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts be named as a compromise candidate.

The action of the Progressives in tabling the suggestion of their leader was read before the Republican delegates and Chairman Harding announced that the message would be recorded in the proceedings of the convention.

Roosevelt in a telegram to the Progressive convention received in the morning suggested the name of Senator Lodge as a compromise candidate upon whom both Progressives and Republicans could unite.

Mr. Roosevelt said that at about five he was notified by the Progressive conferees that they had come to no conclusion with the Republican conferees and that the Republican conferees had again asked for any suggestion of a name as a candidate from the Progressive conferees.

He then wrote to the Progressive conferees stating that he deeply appreciated their loyalty to him and their efforts to get him nominated, but that he thought the time had come when carrying out the spirit of the statement of the Progressive national committee in January and the statement made by him in Trinidad in February, it was his duty to present an alternative name on which he hoped the Republicans and Progressives could unite.

He presented the name of Henry Cabot Lodge. He quoted the three paragraphs of his telegram to W. B. Jackson of Maryland.

He stated that Mr. Lodge had been a member of the lower house of congress and of the senate of the United States for thirty years; that he was a man of the highest integrity, great far-sightedness, and of wide vision as to national needs, and qualified in every way for the high office of president.

The Republican convention opened at the Coliseum at 11 a. m., June 7. Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio was elected temporary chairman, and he delivered a speech setting forth conservative Republican principles.

Following this the regular committees were appointed and organized and routine convention business went forward. There was only moderate expression of enthusiasm at any time.

With the hope of agreeing on a presidential candidate whom both parties might support, the Progressives, in convention at the Auditorium, and the Republicans appointed a joint conference committee Thursday, and this committee met at the Chicago club. Shortly after midnight it was announced that no progress had been made toward fusion of the two parties.

The Republican members of this committee were Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, W. Murray Crane, ex-senator from Massachusetts; Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, Nicholas Murray Butler of New York, president of Columbia university; A. R. Johnson of Ohio, a former congressman. The Progressive members were Gov. Hiram Johnson of California, Horace S. Wilkinson of New York, Charles J. Bonaparte of Maryland, former attorney general, John M. Parker of Louisiana, George W. Perkins of New York.

Nominating speeches began in the Republican convention about three o'clock Friday afternoon, and nominations were closed before eight o'clock. Balloting began at once. Two ballots were taken before adjournment for the night.

The Progressive convention opened at exactly the same time the Republicans started their meeting. Temporary Chairman Raymond Robins delivered the Progressive platform.

Routine business followed—but it wasn't routine in the same way as the Republican session was. The Progressives, with such men as William Allen White, Victor Murdock and Hiram Johnson, were loudly enthusiastic. This convention was really an explosive affair—cheers, table pounding, radical talk and all that.

It is said that George W. Perkins and some others of the Progressive group had a hard time keeping the radical element from nominating Colonel Roosevelt shortly after the show started. The conservatives lived in the hope of a fusion with the Republicans. The radicals said they didn't care what the Republicans did. They wanted "Teddy," and they wanted him quick. There was no dicker-ing spirit in these fellows.

Primitive Methodists.

Women in the churches have always had a rather precarious foothold—ever since Paul did the preaching and Dorcas busied herself with sewing in the cause of charity. But it seems I was wrong the other day in giving the Salvation Army credit as "the first religious movement to call women to an absolute equality with men." I had overlooked the Primitive Methodists. For about a century, as I am reminded by a minister of that flourishing church, "women have held every post, including that of the regular ministry, and may do so now wherever they choose, and pass the necessary examinations." Yet the Salvation Army has certainly made the equality of women a reality beyond that of any other religious organization.—London Chronicle.

All That Mattered.

A young countryman staying in a hotel commenced to write a letter and then went away, leaving it on the table. Another came in and, without thinking, took up the missive. He had it in his hand when the young man returned. "That's my letter, mister," he said, fiercely. "Well, you can have it," was the reply. "Did you read it?" "No; that is, I glanced over a few lines of it and noticed that hardly a word was spelled correctly." "It is to my girl—the girl I'm going to marry." "Yes?" "And I don't care a coked hat about the spelling. What I want to impress on that girl is lov—u—v—and lots of it, for there's a farm and seventy cows coming to her!"

Leaf Curl Disease of Peach.

The Department of Botany of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station has recently had numerous complaints, more especially from northern Ohio, of the curling, yellowing and dropping of leaves of peach trees, and of the threatened defoliation of the trees. Certain varieties of peaches, especially Elberta, Lemon Free and others are very susceptible. This is caused by the leaf curl fungus, which lives over as threads of the fungus in the buds, though we do not have leaf curl outbreaks of a serious character until the buds are opened in the spring of 1916 have been cool and moist, favoring developments of the disease, while those of the spring of 1915 were dry, with little leaf curl.

The survival of the disease in the buds calls for treatment in the early spring before the fungus has attacked the leaves. Dormant strength of the lime-sulphur sprays, or of standard Bordeaux mixture, or combinations of the two, applied in spring as the buds are swelling, or about two weeks before blossoming, are effective many times more so in fact than later applications. The scale control strength of lime-sulphur as a dormant spray will control joint curl at the same time. It is scarcely possible to do more than check a little secondary leaf infection at this time.

The consequence of the loss of leaves may be rather serious when the loss is excessive. The most apparent results are dropping of the fruit, with general reduction of the vigor of the diseased trees. Commonly the diseased trees form new leaves, in fact ripen fruit buds, as well as the reduced crop of fruit.

WASHINGTON ITEMS

Recent Happenings in The Capital City And Elsewhere—Of Interest to Fulton County Folks—What Congressmen are Doing.

Congress marked time last week during the Republican National Convention, and this week during the Democratic Convention no matters of importance will be taken up. An agreement has been entered into by the leaders of both parties covering the convention periods and extending until June 19.

Congressman William Gordon has opposition in the Primaries, three Democrats have entered against him.

S. S. Deveney, insurance man who was defeated in the 1914 Democratic Primaries in the 22nd District; Vincent Smundt, who was defeated two years ago by Congressman Gordon and Pierce Metzger present County Commissioner who is looked upon as the most formidable candidate.

Mr. Emerson has been notified that the Treasury Department has recommended an appropriation of $300,000 for a new Post Office Building at Painesville, where postal receipts have increased rapidly.

The Ohio River dam No. 15 at New Martinsville will be placed in operation about July 1, according to advice received by Representative Mooney from the Engineers of the War Department.

Clarence Carl Ingram, of Edon Williams county has been appointed principal to the Naval Academy at Annapolis by Congressman N. E. Mathews.

The Congressman from this district has received a letter from Special Board of Engineers of the War Department stating that in the pending proposition to construct an inland waterway from Lake Erie at or near Toledo to the southern end of Lake Michigan and to Chicago by way of the Maumee River authorized by Congress and approved July 25, 1912, has been investigated and that it is unfavorable to the Government at this time.

The government safety first special train carrying exhibits of the different departments and bureaus will be in Ohio from June 5 to June 29.

Congressman Crosser has opposition in his district for the nomination for a third term. The candidate is John M. Sulzmann, a member of the Cleveland City Council. This entry against Mr. Crosser was a twelfth hour one and caused much surprise as Mr. Sulzmann does not live in the twenty-first district. Crosser has never had the organization support in his fight for congress.

The Diplomatic and Consular bill passed the house June 7th. The bill originally provided $100,000 to be distributed in increased salaries among the Consular agencies, but this amount was struck out.

H. S. McGregor, a prominent lumberman of Bellaire and his wife arrived in Washington yesterday on their touring car and report the national road in excellent condition.

Interesting and important investigations are being made by the Committee on Expenditures in the Treasury Department, to apprehend if possible persons dodging their income tax.

Representative Cooper of the 19th district is taking advantage of the lull in legislative matters and visiting his constituents.

PENETRATING THE INTERIOR.

To reach virgin recruiting fields off railroad lines, the United States Marine Corps has put in operation this combination freight and passenger automobiles fitted up as virtual rolling recruiting offices to strike into interior sections where the "soldiers of the sea" are but little known and the opportunities their service offers to enlisted men, less understood.

These recruiting offices on wheels will first operate from San Francisco, Atlanta, and Boston, but if the experiments made are successful the idea may be extended to other sections of the country.

The ranks of the Marine Corps have been kept to overflowing for more than three years, but as Congress is expected to increase the strength, by three thousand men, the automobile innovation has been worked out in line with the Corps brilliant reputation for preparedness in all things.

I now have in my ware rooms four car loads of buggies for the spring trade. These are up to date in style and quality. Call and see me. I positively will not be undersold on the same class of vehicles.

WESTERN RESERVE COMMENCEMENT

96 undergraduates of Adelbert College of Western Reserve University ran in four class teams in the 24-mile race from Hudson to Cleveland Monday. The "Hudson Relay" is a special feature of Undergraduate Day at Western Reserve. The Senior runners relayed a message from the Mayor of Hudson, Ohio, where Western Reserve was founded, and where the original college buildings still stand, to President Charles F. Thwing at the University, in Cleveland. Members of other classes competed. The event is unique in American college student activities.

The Western Reserve University Commencement opened informally last week with class and departmental alumni reunions, clinics at the hospitals and Medical School and meetings of societies.

Sunday night President Charles F. Thwing preached the annual Baccalaureate sermon before the Graduating Classes of Adelbert College and the College for Women.

Features of Monday's program, besides the Relay Race, were the Prize Oratorical Contest, Spring Day Carnival and Sing-out.

The Trustees met Tuesday. Wednesday was Alumni Day and College for Women Commencement Day. Wilson Reiff Stearns, Bishop Suffragan of Newark New Jersey, was the speaker at the College for Women Commencement.

Eight departments united in the University Commencement, Thursday, June 15. William Trufant Foster, President of Reed College, Portland, Oregon, was the speaker. Adelbert College alumni celebrated the Ninetieth Anniversary of the College at the Alumni Luncheon Thursday noon. Commencement Week exercises close with a large reception Thursday evening.

Never idle.

"There is one thing about the girl who goes to business," said the observant man. "She is never idle and time never seems to hang heavy with her like it does with a man. If you take a look at those little stenographers and typewriters who nestle about in every office building, you will find them between business hours at work on some little thing they would have done if they had been at home, a piece of embroidery, a dolly, hem-stitching a handkerchief or embroidering a centerpiece or something. The top drawer of their desk is always full of feminine things, needles and thread, and scissors. In fact, there are very few of them that I have seen who do not make their part in the office, in spite of their work, as much like home as possible."
